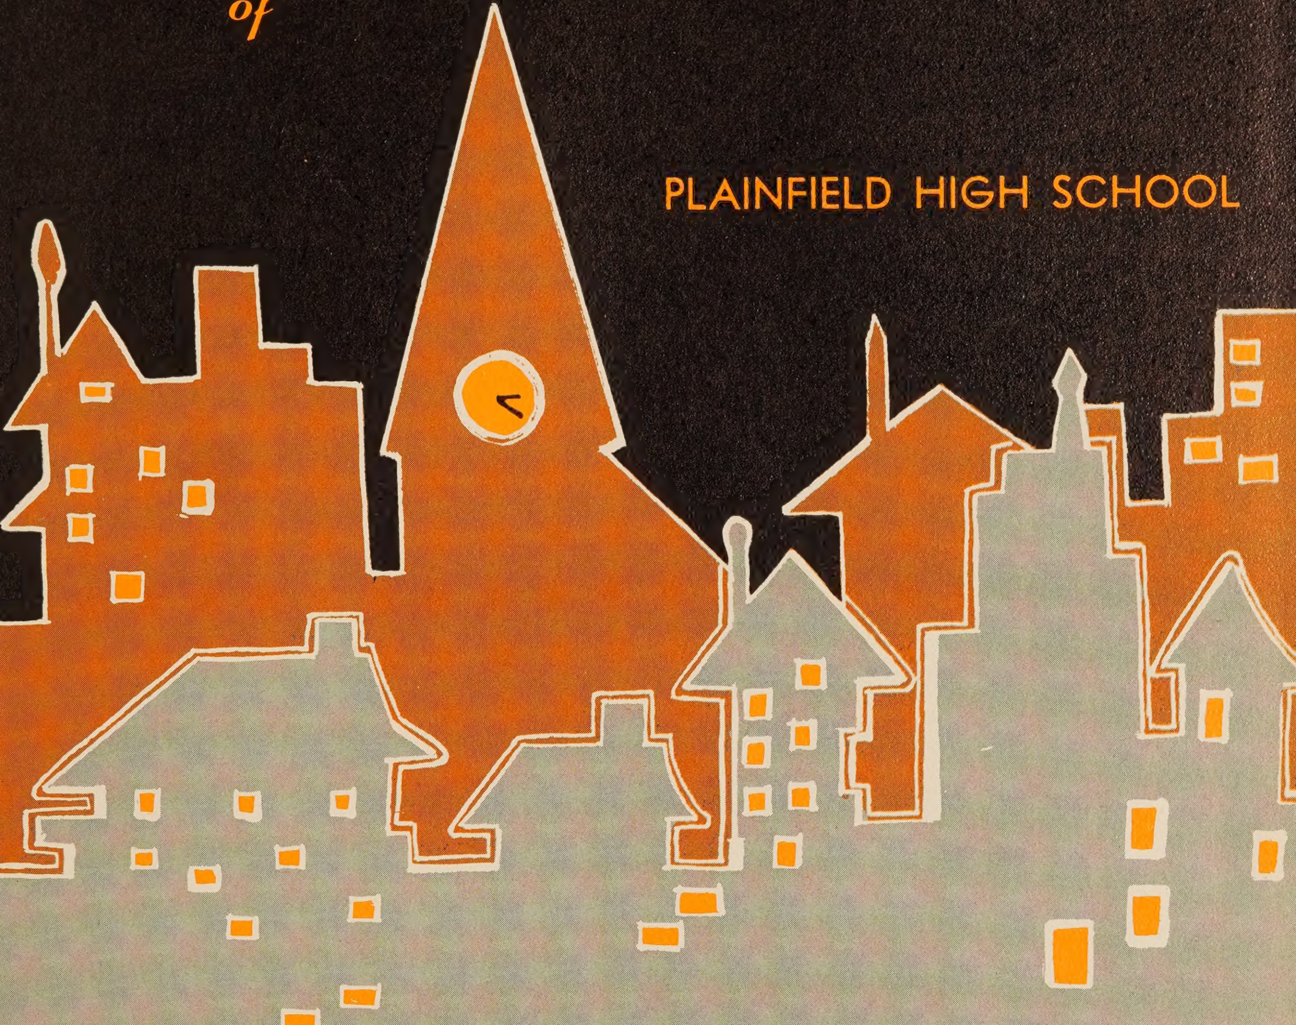
The Senior Class of

PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL



Presents . . .

THE

1960

MILESTONE

Published by Plainfield High School, Plainfield, New Jersey

Foreword

"Youth is a wonderful thing. What a crime to waste it on children."
—George Bernard Shaw

We disagree with Mr. Shaw. The fun and excitement of being young is something we'll never forget. Our youth is the foundation on which we base the rest of our lives. The ideas we have garnered during our teen age years will be with us forever.

We have come to realize the close ties between the school and the town. Many of our school activities are supported and helped by the city and vice versa. These two entities, the school and the city, must work together to form good relationships between the young people and the adult citizens. In this 1960 Milestone we have attempted to show the relationship between Plainfield High School and our Queen City. Being young in Plainfield is a joy and a privilege, Mr. Shaw!

Town and Gown Work Together

VICTOR J. PODESTA
Superintendent

Although not all of us may be familiar with the parts of a motor, nor understand its functions, we do realize the importance of the part it plays in a machine. In the very complex educational mechanism, a "motor," a moving force, is necessary also.

Here, too, we may not be personally familiar with the individuals who make up this force, but we certainly recognize its importance.

The Plainfield Board of Education is the organization we have in mind. These hard-working and capable gentlemen have made possible, by their interest and effort, the fine education offered by the Plainfield school system. Mr. Victor J. Podesta, Superintendent of Schools; his assistant, Doctor Clayton R. Brower; and the Board have worked hard and enthusiastically to achieve the high standard of education that, we are proud to say, exists in Plainfield.

To these gentlemen, who have helped make available to us such wonderful opportunities, we extend sincerest thanks.

CLAYTON R. BROWER
Assistant Superintendent

Administration

Vital Forces in Our Academic Community

The administration is the directing force and backbone of the school. We, the graduating class of Plainfield High, consider ourselves lucky to have had such excellent leadership and guidance throughout our four years. We were always aware that directing us and urging us to go forward was a strong and capable staff of people.

As freshmen, we were awed by the sight of Mr. Warren H. Held, our principal; but as the months rolled by, he soon became a familiar figure and a friend. Those of us who have known him personally are aware of his interest in us, both as a class and as individuals.

Dr. Jean Francis has been here only three years, but already she has become an indispensable part of the school. Her interest in us has encouraged us to work harder to attain our dreams and goals.

Another administrator, known and respected by everyone, is Mr. Henry H. Banta. He has worked hard behind the scenes to help make PHS the smooth running organization that it is today.

To Mr. Held, Dr. Francis, and Mr. Banta we give our thanks; and we know that the future classes of PHS are being left in the best of hands.

Message . . .

MR. WARREN H. HELD, Principal

Principal's Message for The 1960 Milestone

The theme of this year's Milestone is especially appropriate because of the excellent performances of so many members of the class of 1960 in the Senior Play of the same title. The play helped us to realize that our lives are greatly influenced by the forces within our community; by our friends and neighbors; by our families; by the facilities which are provided: schools, churches and clubs. Our environment plays a big part in molding our future.

In the same way, each of us will some day play a part in deciding what kind of community we shall have, whether we stay in our home-town, or move to another community. It is important, then, that we consciously train ourselves, in school and out, to become worthy citizens of our future community, and to become informed in the things that one must know in order to be an effective force for good in Our Town.

Warren H. Held, Principal

Well Done!

MR. PAUL CHAMBERS and MR. A. HAMILTON OTTO

During the first three years of our high school career, we, the class of 1960, were fortunate to have as our adviser Mr. Paul B. Chambers. To Mr. Chambers we would like to express our deepest appreciation for being the patient adviser, the policeman on the corner, and, above all, the lamp for what, at times, seemed to be a dim road.

Assuming the post of adviser for our last year at P.H.S. was Mr. A. Hamilton Otto, mentor to the class of 1959. It is never an easy task to complete what someone else has begun, but we believe that Mr. Otto has guided us well, and he shall be remembered with gratitude.

Could You Tell Me . . . ?

To keep Plainfield High operating smoothly, our secretarial and clerical staff is most essential. This staff performs innumerable services for us. For instance, in early September many schedules must be rearranged when pupils switch their courses; many forms and cards that we had to fill out in the beginning of the year must be filed and kept for reference by the various departments; and when winter looms her snowy head, the student body is reduced to dwindling, sniffling numbers by colds, huge absentee lists must be compiled. Mimeographing, answering correspondence, and operating the switchboards are also included among the many other chores accomplished by this competent staff. We must add, also, the fact that this work is done competently and cheerfully.

MR. WARREN HELD, principal, dictates a letter to his secretary, Miss Caroline Reich.

DR. JEAN FRANCIS, vice-principal, shares amusing anecdote with Ann Parello, her secretary.

We Salute . . .

Kitchen Staff

Teen-agers are probably the hungriest people in the world. Hundreds of ravenous students descend on the cafeteria each day, refueling after a morning of stimulating mental exercise. Meeting the challenge is a group of stalwart women, faced with the task of supplying food for these hungry hordes. Proof of their talent can be seen in the variety of foods, from oriental to all-American, available to the student body at moderate prices.

EFFICIENCY EXPERT—Mr. Wallace Van Horn installs laboratory equipment in our new lab.

REPLACING STOCK—Mr. John Broadbent, head custodian, and Mr. Abe Hoffman unload new supplies.

Custodial Staff

Imagine listening to one of your teachers as you watch the snow fall outside the window and sit shivering in the cold with your hat and coat on. Picture in your mind walking to one of your classes through the paper and trash you and your classmates have been dropping on the floor for the past months.

You have just envisioned the situation you and Plainfield High would be in if we had no custodial staff. In addition to heating, lighting, cleaning, and supplying equipment, our custodians keep the outside of P.H.S. neat and well-maintained. We've been told not to judge a book by its cover; but, unfortunately, most people do. Thanks to our custodians, Plainfield High presents an excellent "cover" for people to judge us by.

Medical Magic

WHAT! NO PULSE? Miss Whelan checks Sue Baker's pulse.

DR. DAY, our school physician, discusses an eye test with Ethel James.

Although flooded with patients throughout the year, Miss Marie Whelan, our school nurse, lends a sympathetic ear to all complaints. If the ailment is serious, she arranges for transportation home. When coughs and sneezes echo in the corridors, Miss Whelan is well prepared for the annual epidemic of colds.

Our medical staff does not await illness before acting. Dr. Day examines our eyes and teeth and gives T.B. patch tests; in addition, he looks after the health of the athletes on our school teams, and applicants for working papers must be examined by him.

We extend our deepest gratitude to these two people who are so vital to the health of our school population.

SAY A-A-A-AH, JOHN! Miss Whelan attempts to discover whether or not John Malone has a sore throat.

Our Four Years

A LEISURE MOMENT — Ronnie Nevers and Ann Pesci talk between classes.

SENIOR RECORD

The career of the class of 1960 is near its end. That first day in September, 1956, seems as though it were yesterday, but four eventful years have passed since then. Where have they gone? . . . let's see!

Indeed! We were typical freshmen, confused, amazed, and awed by everything about those first days. Our P.H.S. student handbooks certainly served a noble purpose, and these, in addition to expert guidance, soon helped us to settle, despite the first day "jitters." We started the ball rolling by electing Lee Smith as our president and Howard Feldman as vice-president. Nancy Sargent assumed the duties of secretary, and Judy Larew became our treasurer. The Freshman party was our first social affair as a class, and what a gay evening we spent getting to know our classmates. Upperclassmen appeared to reap much joy from endeavoring to sell us elevator tickets and swimming pool passes, but we survived our first year with flying colors.

Not many months passed before we had become accustomed to the wants and ways of P.H.S. As sophomores, we no longer felt inferior. Heading our class that year were John Coyle, president; Ronnie Uslan, vice-president; Nancy Sargent, secretary; and Carol Putsche, treasurer. We demonstrated our enthusiasm, willingness, and abilities as a group by staging a successful Sophomore Dance, and by participating en masse in school activities. This was the year that our mascot, the Cardinal, once again became an integral part of sports events at P.H.S., thanks to the efforts of our Student Council and their fabulous Cardinal dance.

in Retrospect

Junior year brought to us the respected title of "upperclassmen," and many of us were startled by the realization that our high school career was nearing its termination. Future days were being brought to our attention by the guidance counselors, and quite a number of juniors could be found frequenting the counselors' office in search of college and vocational material. John Coyle was elected to another term as president, assisted by John Malone as "veep." Clara Brown and Pat Mason were chosen to be secretary and treasurer respectively. Student Council inaugurated a campaign to "adopt" a foreign orphan and conducted a dance to raise the necessary funds. Soon after, young Kim Suk Joo of Korea became our "child."

"Senior Class" . . . At times we wondered if we would ever really be the bearers of this cherished title; but after three years of hard work, we "made the grade." Leading us as a group for the last time were John Coyle, Daniel Regan, Mary Lou Fort, and Pat Mason.

Senior year was, indeed, a busy one! Countless visits were made to our counselors. We toiled over college applications and waited nervously for replies. The Senior play, "Our Town," was the most financially successful production in the history of Plainfield High School. The Entrèe continued to bring us news around P.H.S. The Milestone kept on vividly recording school events in order to furnish us with a permanent record of high school years. The magic of Spring invaded the school, and soon we found ourselves at the Senior Prom, a thrilling dinner-dance that served as an appropriate finale. Milestones were distributed . . . exam week came and went . . . and then the final curtain — graduation.

Our Town

Audience imagination was stimulated on the evenings of November sixth and seventh as the class of 1960 presented Thorton Wilder's Our Town, without the benefit of scenery and with the aid of very few props.

Our play took place in Grovers Corners, a small New England village, in the early years of this century. As the leading lady, Marjorie Hirschberg played Emily Webb from her teens until her death. George Gibbs, her boyfriend, and later her husband, was portrayed by Richard Flitz. David Bomberger, as the stage manager, narrated and philosophized while taking the parts of a minister, a druggist, and an old woman. These three people were only a few of the more than forty students who contributed their time and effort to make our senior play the most financially successful play ever to be presented at Plainfield High School.

For making Our Town the achievement that it was, Miss Virginia Mixer, the entire cast, and the stage crew are to be applauded.

ISN'T THAT AMAZING, GEORGE? Evelyn Owings and Richard Flitz.

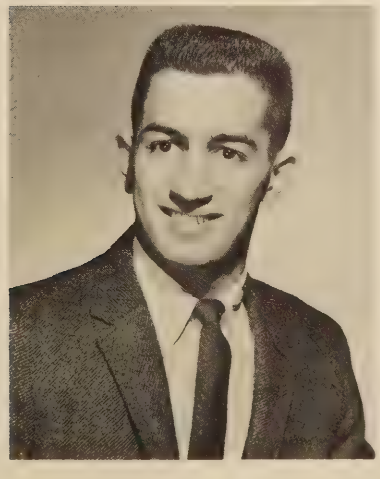
SENIOR CLASS SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Following the pattern set by the two preceding senior classes, the Class of 1960 has awarded scholarships to deserving students. This year the funds were divided among three members of the class.

Jim, our able Student Council treasurer, has high hopes of becoming a veterinarian. This particular field of medicine is not too crowded, but is vitally important. This work is the type that Jim wishes to pursue because he has had some experience as a veterinarian's assistant.

As well as watching Student Council's money, Jim has had many other activities in his four years in P. H. S.: Class Council, Student Council, homeroom chairman, and Executive Council. Outside of school, Jim participated in Key Club, Junior Optimist Club, and C.Y.O.



JAMES DiPAOLO

MARY LOU FORT

Friendly and ambitious might readily describe one of our busiest senior girls. Mary Lou, the class secretary, has tried to make the most of her four years in P. H. S. A member of girls' chorus, mixed chorus, and 45 mixed chorus, she feels that singing is one of her most important activities. Entree Club, Projection Squad, Drama Club, French Club, Archery, and Swimming also filled up her extra time. In her spare time that is left, Mary Lou is active in Rainbow Girls, Tri-Hi-Y, and King's Daughters Fidelity Junior Circle.

After high school, the nursing profession will be the choice of this senior. She feels that this is a very rewarding work. With all her energy, Mary Lou will make an excellent "ministering angel."

Woodworking is the favorite pastime of this senior. Paul has received an award for his woodworking and hopes to continue in this field after high school. He wishes to learn about the operation, supervision, and management of the furniture business; in addition, he would like to master "wood technology."

One of Paul's varied interests is baseball. After school, Paul has used his time working for a jeweler and for a bakery. With such energy and aptitude, Paul should be successful in his work after high school.

Juniors Boost Their Treasury

With proud hearts and bright class rings, we truly shine as upperclassmen. The two wonderful years behind us we have taken in our stride.

During our first year we swung into action with the Freshman Party. Leading us in those history-making months were Janet Cass, Peter Mann, Sue Campbell, and Tom Disbrow.

As worldly sophomores, we successfully sold jackets and gave a "headlining" dance. Roy Resnikoff, Peter Mann, Jeanne LaRossa, and Tom Disbrow were elected to be our officers.

We stormed the halls as upperclassmen with Peter Mann as president, aided bv Judy Hirsch, Jo-ann Lopresti, and Tom Disbrow. The keynote event of the year was our semi-formal dance, "Winter Carnival."

Senior class—here we come!

Sophomores Miss Heckling the Freshmen

When we entered Plainfield High School as freshmen in 1958, our feelings were a mixture of anticipation and expectation. We were aided, however, by Mr. Edmond Lonsky, our class adviser, who helped us gain confidence and stature.

To lead us through our first successful year we elected William Burfeind, Robert Sikowski, Gail Garrett, and Harriet Carmichael as class officers. We became better acquainted with our classmates at that never-to-be-forgotten Freshman Party. Our projects consisted of selecting class colors, blue and white, and the staging of a banner contest.

At the beginning of our sophomore year, we selected as class executives William Burfeind, Robert Sikowski, Marianne Engler, and Harriet Carmichael; and our mentor, Mr. Gilbert Young, was introduced to us. That sophomore dance, "A Night in the Orient," proved to be a gala affair.

Two eventful years at P.H.S. have passed quickly, and we are looking forward to being upperclassmen. May these last two years be as successful and happy as the first.

Link Between

A council has been defined as "an assembly summoned for advice or consultation." In the past year, Student Council representatives, officers, and advisers have met weekly to give advice and make suggestions which could solve the problems of the student body. The aims of the Student Council are to stimulate a healthy school spirit and encourage participation in school activities, to create a clearing house for student opinion, and to acquaint the students with our national democracy.

Under the guidance and direction of Mr. George Reck, the Council has instituted a tutoring program, readopted a young orphan from overseas, started a student exchange program, and carried out many other worthwhile projects connected with the school or the community.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

"Government of the people, by the people, for the people," stated Abraham Lincoln in his famous Gettysburg Address. In keeping with this philosophy, the students of P.H.S. are well represented in the Executive Council, headed by Mr. George Reck. The purposes of this organization are to draw up and prepare the Student Council agenda and advise upon all matters concerning the student body and the school.

First Row: P. Lynch, C. Brown, Mr. Banta, S. Sampson E. Sobel. Second Row: L. Oliver, J. Fitzgerald, M. Becker, C. Rhodes, M. Hirshberg, E. Owings, B. Simpson. Third Row: N. Meeks, N. THE USHERS' SQUAD

"The Ushers' Squad is a real service organization with emphasis on the serving," declares Mr. Banta, director of the Ushers' Squad. The members give unselfishly of their time at all assemblies, at graduation, and at night assignments, including band, choral, and dramatic functions.

The Ushers' Squad plays a major role in keeping order at all school affairs. Without their guiding hand, there would be much confusion among the great number of students and guests that flock into the P.H.S. auditorium for the varied activities.

Faculty and Students

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

Those of us who are too critical have no idea of the hard work and planning which are necessary to produce an interesting assembly program. Miss Rita Kramer, the adviser, and her capable staff have more than adequately performed their duties. "The proof of the pudding,' they say, "is in the eating." We here at Plainfield have dined well.

AIR RAID SQUAD

The Air Raid Squad consists of about twenty-two Juniors and Seniors chosen by the Student Council. Supervised by Mr. Banta, the members keep order and silence in the corridors and keep students away from glassed-in areas when air raid drills are held.

First Row: B. Henry, M. Kennedy, Mr. H. Banta, J. Durant, C. Bantle. Second Row: W. Lloyd, G. DeMatteo, G. Nevius, M. Sanders. Third Row: R. Hoblitzell, N. Lippert, G. Norton, D. Belardo, J. Gallo.

Vox Populi

Extra! Extra! Get your copy of the latest P.H.S. news. Get your Entrée in all lunch periods today!

The journal referred to above, is our school paper, the Entrée, whose staff, directed by Mr. Gimbel, has the formidable task of keeping about 1,500 students aware of school activities. They have done a good job as witnessed by the many awards they have won. Plainfield High School has had a school paper for twenty-seven years, and we hope to have one for many more.

ENTREE BUSINESS STAFF

The more glamorous role, of course, is in the actual writing and reporting for the Entrée; in short, the editorial side of the paper has more appeal. Without Mr. Otto and his capable business staff, however, no amount of talent would see the light of day. Publications could not exist without the necessary advertisements and very important functions of the Business Staff. It is our purpose to hereby give them the public recognition they so richly deserve.

MILESTONE EDITORIAL STAFF

Carney, adviser; F. Juliano, L. Rosenfield, P. Alai, S. Smith, J. Glasser, G. Lindes.

'60 Milestone Depicts "Our Town"

"My mind lets go a thousand things,
Like dates of wars and deaths of kings,
And yet recalls the very hour . . ."

A battered football landed in just the right place. An "A" adorned a math test. A bright red rose was given. These events are the essence of memories. "Yes, we remember it well." To perpetuate these memories is the purpose of a yearbook. We, the members of the editorial staff, championed by our adviser, Mr. Carney, hope we have done just that.

MILESTONE BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFFS

The secret ingredient in the Milestone is money. Without this indispensable element the much anticipated June appearance of a memory-laden volume would be impossible.

Procuring funds for the yearbook is the task of the Milestone Business Staff. This group, under the leadership of Sophie Ann Urbanker, Business Manager, and advised by Mr. Warren Sterling, publicizes the yearbook for sale to P.H.S. students.

In charge of soliciting advertisements from local merchants is the advertising staff, headed by Judy Bohlen, and advised by Mr. George Dixon.

First Row: Mr. G. Dixon, L. August, B. Annunziata, C. Appell, C. Doty, S. Fleishman, Mr. W. Sterling. Second Row: C. Stein, J. Hirsch, R. Kotter, S. Smith, V. Bauer, J. Basso, M. GIRLS' CHORUS

"If I only had a brain . . ." The mournful chant goes up from numerous female throats. A soliloquy, perhaps, on the absence of gray matter always so evident at exam time? No, in this case it is members of the Girls' Chorus practicing a selection from "The Wizard of Oz," one of the many pieces to be learned during the year.

However, more than just singing is needed to produce a smooth tone. Breath control and tonal quality are essential to an effective presentation of any piece of music; therefore, these qualities are studied as part of the twice-weekly chorus periods conducted by Mr. Hooker.

BOYS' CHORUS

The concerts given by Plainfield High's male chorus are proof enough that the end, not always, but sometimes, justifies the means. The means in this case is the hard work these boys put in at their bi-weekly rehearsals; and the end result, their performances, is always superb.

The forty-five member male chorus is picked from the large mixed chorus by their director, Mr. Francis L. Hooker. They participate in two performances a year, the Christmas Concert and the Choral Festival in the Spring. At the Christmas Concert, which was broadcast over the radio, the boys sang "Lo, How a Rose Ere Blooming" and "Go Tell It on the Mountain." At the Choral Festival the boys selections included hit songs from the movies of the past twenty years.

"... And The Angels Sing!"

MIXED CHORUSES

"Ma-me-mi-mo-moo!" The chant of a contented Carnation cow? No, this sound comes from the contented choristers of P.H.S. warming up. Braving the cold, cruel winds at eight thirty-four each Friday morning, one hundred dedicated singers gather to raise their voices in melody.

Led by Mr. Hooker, diaphragms expand and contract in time with the stretching of jaws to produce a full, rich sound. The result of these exercises, coupled with memorization of classical and popular music, is a series of programs given throughout the year.

At Christmas time, members of the 45 group sang for many outside organizations. In May of this year, the combined groups will don formal attire to present the annual Choral Festival.

BAND

As Mr. Andrews mounts the podium and taps the lectern with his baton, the members of the Plainfield High School band raise their instruments and await the downbeat. The stick abruptly lowers, and the air is filled with hundreds of musical notes. The band is at work every eighth period of the school year, preparing for half-time routines at football games, pep rallies, the annual spring concert, or their yearly concert in Green Brook Park. Whether these music makers are playing "Yip" on the P.H.S. field or the "Poet and Peasant Overture" on our high school stage, everyone agrees that our band is a top-notch organization.

BAND PROVIDES BACKGROUND MUSIC FOR TWIRLERS — a fitting climax to our fall sports assembly.

CHEERLEADERS

Through rain and sunshine, co-captains Sandy Miniere and DeeDee OBrien and the squad have kept our spirits soaring for the "glory of Plainfield High." Under the leadership of Miss Audrey Joyce, these lively and versatile cheerleaders have cheered us through another year of basketball, football, and pep rallies.

TWIRLERS

Start the music! Here comes the twirling squad, led by captain Sally Metz. This vivacious group, under the direction of Miss Rita Matiskella, has performed at the football games and pep rallies. They all deserve a rousing cheer for their efforts to spur our team onward and to keep our spirits high.

The drama is an outlet for so many pent-up emotions. Some people waste great dramatic fervor bemoaning their fate after an extremely difficult test. Because putting curses upon the "seventh sons of seventh sons" of the perpetrators of these tests is a rather futile gesture, another outlet for this emotion must be found.

The Drama Club is an excellent place to express oneself. In the heart of every teenager, there lurks a sense of the dramatic. A few, perhaps, even dream of conquering the world as a second Bernhardt, or perhaps as a second Brando. A high school drama organization can be an excellent training ground for these people.

For those who have no desire to act, there are a variety of jobs connected with each production. Some students may prefer painting scenery, or perhaps faces, to memorizing lines. The play would not be "the thing" without the costumes, lighting, coaching, and other jobs which are necessary for a finished, polished performance.

At present, theatre groups across the country are giving enjoyment to both the participants and audiences. Plainfield High School is no exception.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

"We, the members of the Junior Classical League, covenant to hand on the torch of classical civilization in the modern world." Under the guidance of Miss Eleanor Horn, the J.C.L. members sent Christmas gifts to underprivileged children in a southern school. A Christmas party, the State Convention, and a Latin banquet highlighted this club's year.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

Helping to keep the P.H.S. library running smoothly are the many members of the Library Council. Under the direction of Miss Josephine Miller, the members faithfully carry out their duties, which include keeping the shelves in order, assisting students in finding books, and working behind the desk. Without the Library Council members, the library would be in hopeless confusion.

NEWS BUREAU

Everyone likes seeing his own name in the newspaper, for a printed name gives one an aura of prestige. Under the direction of Mr. John W. Simpson, the P.H.S. News Bureau has become the link between school activities and the Courier News. The Bureau's job is to convey to the public, through news articles, the important activities in and around school. At the same time that they are learning about newspaper writing, the members perform a necessary service for the school and community.

PROJECTION SQUAD

After an operator has very proficiently set up a projector, there is nothing more deflating than watching the film unthread itself because the machine was set to "reverse." After embarassing moments like this, a new operator will become a veteran in the organization that does the school a great service. The Projection Squad, under the direction of Mr. Nelson, operates the equipment that belongs to the visual aids department of P.H.S.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Formed to help high-school students interested in a teaching career, this club is headed by Mrs. Rasmussen. The students are assisted in choosing subjects to teach and in selecting the proper grade levels. The program includes, among other things, listening to various speakers, seeing educational films, and practice teaching. As extra activities, the club holds discussions on foreign-teaching methods and participates in community work with children.

RADIO CLUB

A ham's greatest pleasures are talking about his rig and bragging about the distant places he has contacted. The radio club, under the direction of Mr. Pearson, has just obtained a new transmitter that they hope will enable them to get in touch with ham operators in every country of the world.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club meets once a week under the direction of Mr. Booher and Mr. A. E. Smith. The members are engaged in a tournament that serves the dual purpose of determining the best player and giving the members an opportunity to play a very interesting game.

Seated: L. LeBow, H. Goldrich, D. Weingartner. Looking on: P. Gunst, A. Smith, R. Booher, advisers; D. Shoengold, R. Schultz.

Cards Take Title!

John Coyle

After a disappointing opening tie with Barringer and a loss to powerful Columbia, Coach Abe Smith's varsity football team rolled through its Central Jersey Group IV schedule to another championship in this league; it also garnered the Union county crown and a mythical number nine ranking in the state. Big Herman Johnson, one of the area's leading scorers and a choice on most all-state first teams, led the Redbirds to a final six wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie log.

The forward wall of the Plainfield line was sparked by such standouts as Dom Belardo and Ollie Taylor. These two players, together with Ron Commune, John Nevius, Raymond Mines, and Reggie Crawley, gave the Smithmen a stingy defense. The backfield of Joe Turi, Herman Johnson, Don Twine, and Mike Liebowitz was considered one of the best in the state. Other backfield members whose presence will be missed next year are John Coyle and Conrad Stybel.

Prospects for next year are bright, with many experienced varsity players returning.

Hard Luck in a Rebuilding Year

Coach Bill Brann's hoopsters encountered rugged going this year in a season marked with bad luck, injuries, and sickness, resulting in a one win, eighteen loss record.

The Cards started the season off with a bang by beating Springfield, 52-50. Unfortunately, the rest of the season was finished without another win. The squad was hampered by a lack of experience, with only three lettermen returning. Despite these handicaps, the team showed marked improvement as the season progressed.

This season's senior standouts included Al Smith, who led the team in scoring with 215 points; Bob Sobel, and Al Griffin. Other senior lettermen were Emmanuel Knowles and Mike Lefkowitz.

John Boynton Takes Two State Titles for Liskemen!

Sparked by the brilliant aquatic activities of John Boynton, Boone Markey, Lee Smith, and Bill Robertson, the Plainfield Mermen were led by Coach Liske to a victorious 9-4 season and to a third place in the Union County Championships, as well as a sixth place in the State Championships.

Boynton, a senior, produced an unblemished record in dual meet competition. He placed 2nd and 3rd respectively in the 400-yard Freestyle and 200-yard Individual Medley in the Eastern Interscholastic Championships. In the State Meet he took two first places by smashing the existing Guided by Coach John Pepe, the Card grapplers finished the season with a healthy record of 9 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie. The team was lead by Stan Winkler with an 8-5 record in the 130 pound class; John Nevius in the 141 pound class, with an 11-2 record, and John Coyle in the 148 pound class, with an 11-0-2 record.

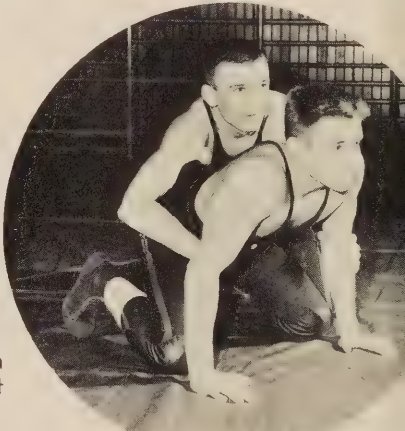
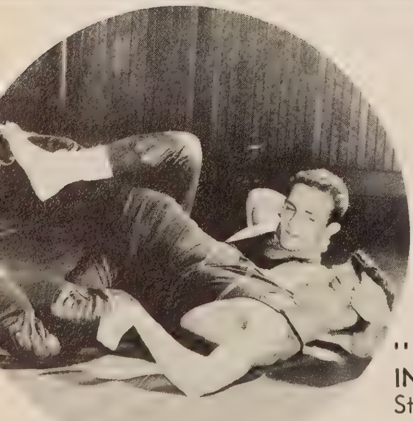
With a large number of experienced wrestlers returning, the team has bright prospects for next year. Among those whom the team will depend on next year are Charles Higgins, Alex Stripto, Jerry Ward, Roger Casset, Jack Liddy, Louis Christman, Bruce Hemmings, Walter Brown, Mike Liebowitz, and John Taylor.

"DON'T DO IT THAT WAY!" — Coach Pepe insists on proper technique.



"READY, BOYS?" — John Coyle and John Nevius set themselves.



"NO HAIR PULLING!" — Joe Turi and Stan Winkler "ham it up."

"YOU MUST BE CAREFUL!" — Mr. Pepe cautions his boys.

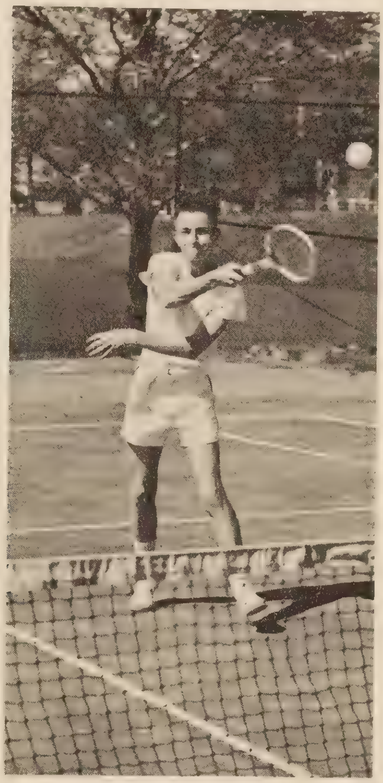
POW! — Steve Appell shows service form.

Racket Men Again on Winning Side of Ledger!

Under the capable direction of Coach Gilbert Young, the Plainfield netmen completed a successful season, winning eight and losing six of their scheduled matches. Hampering the tennis squad in the beginning of the season was typical, rainy spring weather.

After losing the first four matches, the racketmen gained experience and finished the remaining schedule with an 8 and 2 record. This comeback gained momentum which was largely due to the talents of Roy Gartner, playing first singles; Rod Merrill, and Jim Dunn, the number two and three men. Like most of the other members of the team, this group needed only experience to improve. Serving to round out the varsity were Tom Clash, Dave Black, Ron Shrager, Howie Pines, Nolan Rosall, Mike Lefkowitz, Steve Appell, and Ted MacDermott.

Although the team will miss the efforts of Roy Gartner and Howie Pines, who have been graduated, the prospects for another successful season are good.



WHOOPS! — Jim Dunn shows strain of return.

Coach Liddy's Crew Has Winning Season!

The Plainfield High School baseball team of 1959 compiled a very respectable 8-7-1 record in sixteen encounters. This marked the first time that the Cards have had a winning season since 1952.

Coach Jack Liddy's men were sparked by the hitting of senior centerfielder, Stan Stagaard, who finished the year with a .396 batting average. The other seniors who served as the backbone of the club were Barry Jacobson, Wayne Baldino, Joel Ryzoff, Pete Liske, and Tom McCreesh.

The most crucial game of the year was the second meeting with St. Mary's of Elizabeth. The first contest between the two teams had resulted in a tie. By winning the second game, 14-3, the Cards finished the season over the long sought .500 mark.

THERE SHE GOES!—Mike Liebowitz puts shot 'way out.

The track team of Marshall Brown had one of its most successful years, ending the season unbeaten in dual meet competition, winning the Union County Championship, and copping the Central Jersey and State crowns. They also topped the list of 40 New Jersey schools in the Englewood Track and Field Meet.

The team was sparked this year by Big Herm Johnson, who demonstrated his versatility in all the events in which he competed. Other standouts included Hans Ehrnstrom in the weights, Arthur Freeman in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, and James Anderson in the broad jump and 200 yard dash. Other important members of the team were Neal Dern, Bob Zagoria, Joel Nadler, Peter Hierl, Al Patillo, Bob Reese, Woody Sobel, and Lynn Grey.

CROSS COUNTRY

For the second time in three years, Coach Marshall Brown's harriers won the Union County, Central Jersey, and State cross country crowns. The team was led by junior Ralph Harper through an excellent dual meet season of ten wins against one setback. Only a 27 to 28 loss to New Brunswick deprived the Cards of an undefeated season.

The key to the team's success was depth. Not far behind Harper in almost every race were Ronnie Williams, Augie Grace, and Al Smith. They were supported by Dave Hardy, Dave Folk, Danny Regan, Tom Foster, Dave Johnston, Barry Ansel, and Joel Rosenberg.

Girls' Tennis

This fall, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Fury, forty girls from Plainfield High School participated in after-school tennis. Advanced players, as well as beginners, were taught better form and technique.

In the spring, the girls best qualified participated in a tournament. A trophy, in addition to G.A.A. points, was awarded to the winner.

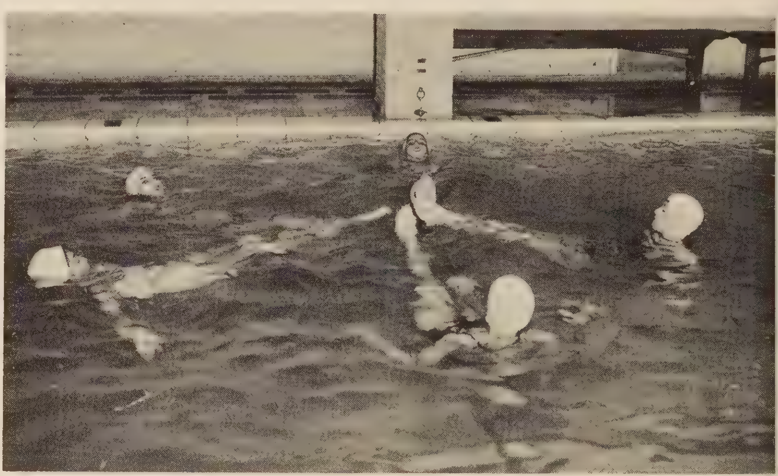
Girls' Swimming

Interclass swimming was held this spring after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays. This sport was open only to accomplished swimmers. A meet, which featured swimming, diving, and novelty events, was held between the classes, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Persinger, adviser.



WATER BALLET — Five mermaids form a pinwheel.

Girls' Archery

Twenty-six girls from all three classes met on Mondays and Wednesdays to participate in after-school archery. The girls met during the winter season in the girls' large gym, under the guidance of Mrs. Ruth B. King. Captains of the teams were elected, and later in the season tournaments were held in which the various classes competed for group and individual honors.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association of Plainfield High School has as its members any girls that have participated in at least one after-school sport. In the spring of the year, the girls meet and elect officers. During the year the officers meet with their faculty adviser, Miss Audrey Joyce, to decide on a program for the year, set up policies, arrange the budget, and help make up the slate for the following election. Another function of the G.A.A. is to help carry out the point system, which is the system by which a girl can earn enough points to win an award. This year the Association has applied for membership in the New Jersey Athletic Association for Girls.

Year's Record 1959-1960

Is it over? It seems impossible, but nine long months have passed since the opening day of school last September 10. For the seniors, the year has sped by even faster than it has for underclassmen, bringing to an end their four eventful years at Plainfield High School.

So many happenings have filled the year's calendar, both in school and in the world outside. This was the year of the Olympics, at which the United States captured three gold medals—all for proficiency on ice. Plainfield High spent its first year without freshmen, and two royal princes were born to Great Britain and Japan. Oh, yes, there's one more thing—1960 was a Leap Year! Lest these and other events fade in our memories, The Milestone has provided the following record of the school year, 1959-1960.

September: The first few days of school found P.H.S. students trying to become accustomed once more to the old "grind;" fortunately, most succeeded and were well on their way to a good year. At the first assembly, Student Council officers were inducted. The Entrée made its welcome first appearance of the year. Work was begun on the Senior play, which was to be given the following November. On the national scene, Soviet Premier Nikita Kruschev toured the U.S.A. and seemed to be favorably impressed by most of what he viewed. A major steel strike began, which was to cause a serious chain reaction of events affecting our economy. Back at school, football season opened with a fine contingent of players to bring us another victorious season.

October: This was the month of the World Series and the 14th birthday of the United Nations Organization. Parents came "back to school" at the first P.T.A. meeting, and members of the Sophomore class conducted an entertaining quiz program—"You're on your Own"—during an assembly. On October 2, long lines of students made their way through the auditorium, each person receiving his T.B. patch as he passed through. The month was culminated by an event we would meet again during the year, sometimes gladly, sometimes not—the end of the first marking period.

BEFORE

November: Turkey and cranberry month greeted us with report cards. Seniors did an impressive job and led the honor roll. Incidentally, for many this month was minus the cranberries, because much of this delectable commodity was confiscated by the government because of the use of a chemical spray believed to cause cancer. Varied abilities were displayed by Sophomores at their talent assembly. "Our Town," the Senior class production, brought laughter and tears to a receptive audience and proved to be a huge financial success as well. A period of holiday festivities was started with the annual Thanksgiving assembly and vacation. Plainfield again beat its old rival, Westfield, in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game.

December: During December there were signs of the holiday season throughout the building. At a Senior class assembly we were happy to find out that this year's prom would be held outside of the school, at the Martinsville Inn. President Eisenhower's journey to foreign capitals, culminating in a Paris conference of Western leaders, highlighted the month's political activity. At P.H.S., Seniors had already begun to apply to schools of their choice and to think seriously of future plans. The first of the year's College Board exams was administered. The eagerly anticipated Christmas vacation finally arrived, climaxing the last month of 1959.

January: We began the new year, 1960, with report cards, and Seniors maintained their honor roll lead. Our ice skates were still lying idle. Although it was winter, the weather was not wintry enough for skating. The fashion rage this year seems to have been racoon collared coats for the girls, and both boys and girls favored very bulky sweaters. We will all remember Dickey Chappelle, foreign correspondent and photographer, who gave a stimulating talk about her recent trip aboard a U.S. ship guarding Formosa's waters. Mrs. Chappelle's exciting account of her adventure was illustrated with colorful slides which she had taken herself. Signs of this year's coming Presidential election manifested themselves, as Senators John F. Kennedy, Hubert Humphrey, and Vice-President Richard Nixon threw their hats into the ring. Couples danced to the music of Doc Brown at the "Winter Carnival," a semi-formal dance sponsored by the Junior class, bringing the month to a pleasant end.

TALENT ASSEMBLY — Sophomores enjoy some local talent.

February: February, although the shortest month, contains many holidays, including the birthday anniversaries of two Presidents and St. Valentine's Day. A patriotic assembly helped to commemorate some of the events and people responsible for our country's greatness. Students aspiring to Student Council offices received their petitions. P.H.S. members of the American Field Service were busily seeking financial support for the visit of a foreign exchange student to our school. Fortunate were we to have a mid-winter recess, but we came back to face the end of another marking period. On our return, General Motors Corporation presented an enjoyable and informative demonstration of scientific progress.

March: March began with the presentation of speeches to the student body by the candidates for next year's Student Council. "The Play's the Thing," and the evening of the Interclass Play Tournament found a number of P.H.S. thespians displaying their talents. Again, with the aid of voting machines, those students who had registered were allowed to choose next year's Student Council officers. Who can forget the exciting "water carnival" that was staged in our pool? Sponsored by our swimming team, this gala event produced funds which were put in our foreign exchange fund.

April: Spring arrived, and along with it came a host of activities. Preparation for the election of next year's class officers was under way, and many clever posters covered the bulletin boards. A number of Seniors had already been accepted by schools, colleges, and universities throughout the country, and they realized more than ever that only a short time remained for them at P.H.S. We returned from Easter vacation and found it quite difficult to concentrate on our studies, for the beauty of the season had captivated us with resulting spring fever. Finals were not far off, however, so we tried to remain studious a while longer.

GRADS! — Clara Brown and Jill Perrin look over the graduates' pictures.

May: It was truly the "merry, merry month of May." Preparations were in full swing for the Senior Prom to be held in June. The Choral Festival was an evening of pleasant harmony, and the colorful dress of the female choristers added that extra touch of spring. The only blemish on our feelings of merriment were thoughts of the coming final exams. "C'est la vie!"

June: Senior Prom . . . pastel gowns and white dinner jackets . . . the scent of lovely corsages . . . midnight dinner . . . dancing until two. What a glorious evening! Signing one another's yearbooks was a popular pastime. Then we worked! Exams! All of a sudden it was June 20th . . . Commencement Exercises. What words could describe the emotion of each Senior as he stepped up to the platform to receive his diploma?

We have said good-by to P.H.S., but in word only, for Plainfield High will be a part of us always. We value the associations we have made here and the lasting friendships we have formed. How could we ever forget the happy times in lunch, at dances, and during football games? We are grateful to the faculty for the part they played in establishing a solid foundation for our futures. Thank you, Plainfield High, for giving us these four years. May we be a credit to you.

AND, FINALLY, GRADUATION!

IN MEMORIAM

It is with deep sorrow that we of the Milestone staff observe the passing of Mr. Warren H. Held, our Principal. Because of Mr. Held's close identification with our work, we feel that this issue of the Milestone is, in a sense, dedicated to him.

We know that the students, the faculty, and other members of the staff share our feeling of sympathy, which we extend to his family in their bereavement.
